Kettle Resigns As Y. M. C. A. Head Effective Sept. 15

Edwin Kettle, for twelve years general secretary of the Danville Young Men's Christian association and now rounding out his thirty-sixth year in active "Y" work, has resigned that position, his resignation has been respectfully accepted, and he will retire September 15.

Mr. Kettle in a letter addressed to the Board of Directors of the Danville association, under date of June 14th states that his retirement is "because of inability on account of physical condition to perform the duties of the office." In another letter, addressed to W. T. Gravelley, president of the association he states that during the last year and a half, "because of failing health, it has been at times difficult and at other times impossible for me to perform fully the duties of my office." He adds: "I fear that for me in my present condition to attempt to fill the position would cause the work of the Association to suffer."

Speaking with reference to the succession as the executive officer of the Association the retiring official says: "My hope is that a young man may be secured and secretary of the Association, who will under the direction of the Board prosecute the work with vigor and make the Association a great influence for righteousness in our city." He assures the president that he will "remember with real pleasure the many happy years spent as your secretary and cherish the many friendships formed during the past twelve years." President Gravelley says in the course of his reply:

"I am deeply distressed that you have deemed it necessary to offer your resignation. Though fully aware of the fact that you had been considering this step for several days, I had hoped that you might be able to continue with us. However, from our personal conversations, I am justly proud of the fact that you have appreciated the fact that your health is your first consideration."

"My personal relations with you have been a great pleasure, and I shall miss you sorely."

Mr. Kettle began his work in Danville on August 1st, 1910, succeeding Carroll C. Kent, the first general secretary of the association organized here in 1907, but which did not complete its organization until near the close of 1908. Prior to coming to Danville Mr. Kettle was for three years in a similar capacity with the Wilmington, N. C. association, for two years before that he was director of the Young Men's Christian association, and for sixteen years before that time he was connected with official staff of the Buffalo, N. Y. "Y."

During his dozen years in Danville the retiring official has been actively and efficiently identified with religious work and effort of all kinds, with the educational life of the community and took an active part in all the patriotic war activities. Every cause that contributed to the moral and material welfare of the city had his sympathy and aid to the extent of his opportunities. Personally he has become known to thousands and practically all of them are his friends, for he may be said of him that he has helped many, but has harmed or injured none.

With Mr. Kettle his devoted wife, of course, will go, should they decide to leave the city after September 1st, on which date it is understood his resignation will be effective. Mr. Kettle also has been a sympathetic, efficient helpmate and has also rendered valuable service in her church relations and in all good causes. She has impressed many with her consecrated Christian life, her efficiency and usefulness and her willingness to serve wherever and whenever she might. She has many devoted friends in Danville, and her example and influence have been helpful and stimulating to many.

McCormick's Visitors

Keen Interest Is Shown In Primary To Be Held Aug. 1

As the campaign which is to end in the primary of August 1st is now nearing the point of greater activity and keener interest, the remark is frequently heard that the vote of the women will probably be the decisive factor. So far as can be ascertained there is no ground for this sage reflection, other than that the women have both paid the tax within the prescribed time limit and also registered in the ward in which they reside. Just now there is no available means of determining how many of those who have paid last year's tax in time have also taken the trouble to register and be enrolled on the polling for the August primary and the November election.

In the first place only white women will be eligible to vote in the primary, and even then only those who have paid their 1931 poll tax, and also registered in the ward in which they reside. Finally, only those who have paid their 1931 poll tax prior to May 6th are eligible to register, and but they must have paid the tax within the prescribed time limit and also registered in the ward in which they reside. Just now there is no available means of determining how many of those who have paid last year's tax in time have also taken the trouble to register and be enrolled on the polling for the August primary and the November election.

In the election of last November approximately 900 white women were eligible to vote, those having prepaid the 1931 tax, not then assessable against them, and also registered in the proper ward. Since then all women above the age of 21 years have become assessable for the poll or head tax, and a large number have prepaid the tax to qualify for the primary. Now that the new list of men and women who have prepaid the poll tax in time to enable them to register and vote, it is possible to state approximately the number who have prepaid the tax, most of whom may yet register and thereafter vote in primary on August 1st, if they so desire. Many probably do not desire to do so and do not intend to exercise the privilege accorded them by the action of the whole assembly in amending the federal constitution.

A total of 6,374 persons—men and women above the age of 21—have actually paid the poll taxes lawfully assessable against them, and if they register they are entitled to vote in the primary and in the ensuing general election. Of this total who have prepaid the capitation tax prior to May 6th, in cases of men the taxes were paid in 1931, approximately 2,500 of them have complied with this requirement of law, but it is estimated that fewer than half that number have taken the trouble and complied with the requirements incident to registration. Probably 1,500 or 1,700 females tax-payers are also registered up to the date, but it is estimated that the number be so great. It is estimated that many otherwise eligible women have not yet been induced to register, and that of those who vote, approximately a hundred women are barred in the city of Danville from the city of Danville reported to other places. Altogether a total of 1,500 women voters will probably be the maximum, and the total feminine vote will hardly reach that figure.

While a large proportion of the male tax-payers are registered, by no means all of them are, probably not more than 2,200 being now qualified to vote. As in the case of the women, many men registered and otherwise qualified have removed from the city and will hardly return to vote, while a large number will not take the trouble to do so. It is probable that the vote of the city in the primary will hardly exceed 2,500 or 2,700, which would be an average of about 100 to the ward. Certainly the situation now stands, that seems probable.

In general it is likely that the female vote will be divided between the candidates very much in the same manner as the male vote, the women generally voting as their husbands vote. The canvass is directed chiefly to the male voters with a practical assurance that if their interest be aroused, the women of the family who vote will be like theirs. As to their husbands, fathers or brothers are, of course, there will be exceptions, but these exceptions will merely even up the count. The average thirty-nine days may be a great activity but there is yet time to anticipate a remarkable "feeling" in the city, in which a salaried city official and a United States senator are to be nominated and the white Democratic vote of Danville, the other by

Figures published by the city treasurer show that the poll taxes are payable in full and showed the following:

Number of white men paid up	2,599
Number of white women paid up	2,210
Number of negro men paid up	478
Number of negro women paid up	545
Total paid poll taxes in time	6,328

The number of white men assessed for the poll tax in 1931 was 4,187; number of white women assessed 2,210; number of negro men assessed 472; number of negro women assessed ed, 1,664. Grand total assessed 11,555, of whom 8,411 were white and 3,137 negroes.

Of the 11,555 assessed for the 1931 poll tax, only 6,374 are on the list of eligibles for the November election. Of this total, 826 are negroes, all of whom are ineligible to vote in a Democratic primary, leaving approximately 5,548 white persons who have qualified to vote so far as the prepayment of poll taxes within the required limits is concerned. Probably half of these are also registered and therefore eligible to vote.

The vote in the Democratic primary of last August was 2,489, or assuming that at least eleven of these ballots cast were rejected as defective and are therefore not embraced in the total stated, it is likely that slightly more than 2,500 voted or thought they voted. From what can be learned by inquiry of registrars, the new registrations for the primary of August 1st have not been numerous up to this time. Possibly the efforts of campaign managers will stimulate registrations somewhat, especially of women who have paid their 1931 poll taxes, with the result that the total vote in the August primary may reach 2,800 and possibly 3,000. That will almost surely be a maximum estimate, however, in a contest between two candidates it is likely that 1,400 votes will prove a majority. Nearly all the successful candidates in the primary of last August polled slightly more than that number.

LEWIS-ALLISON

On Saturday June 17th, at one-thirty o'clock at the handsome country home of Mrs. Virginia Lewis was the scene of a party marriage when her youngest daughter, Ruby, became the bride of H. Aulus Allison, of Norfolk, the Rev. R. W. Grant, of Petersburg, officiating. The home had been artistically decorated in daisies and ferns, and the burning candles placed here and there afforded a soft glow to the entire surroundings.

"You and I," "Constancy" and "The World is Waiting for Sunshine" were played softly before the ceremony by Mrs. J. W. Flippin, violinist of Danville, and Miss Ethel McLaughlin, pianist.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March entered Miss Eunice Milam, followed by Miss Ruth Flippin. Just preceding the bride came little Miss Virginia Bruce Davis, of Danville, who scattered rose petals. Then came the bride, in the arm of her groom, Harry Callaway Lewis, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Aubrey Burton.

The bride was becomingly attired in a cape-dress of midnight blue, canton crepe lined with blue crepe, and adorned with blue and white lace. The bride's maids wore dresses of pink and blue organdie over hand embroidered net and wore large hats of same material. They carried bouquets of pink roses and the little flow of the bride was attractively dressed in white organdie.

A number of guests were present, including many from a distance to witness the ceremony.

The popularity of the young couple was attested by the numerous gifts received, consisting of much silver, cut glass, etc.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Allison left for Washington, New York and other points of interest. They will reside in Norfolk.

THE ROYAL MARIMBA BAND

Audiences on the fourth day of the Radcliffe Chautauqua will have a rich treat in store which will come to many as a revelation, as well as a distinct novelty, in the realms of music.

The attraction afternoon and evening will be the Royal Marimba Band from Guatemala, Central America, under the leadership of Senor Don Arthur Cruz. These are the native Central Americans. They play on an instrument that is equally distinctive of that country—the Marimba—and is made of wood from their native country. As an instrument it is as strange and unique compared with all others, as the music is exquisite which these skilled native musicians produce through it. It is music that is so haunting in the rich tones of the lower notes, the brilliancy of treble and the sweeping cadences of harmony that it defies description. It must be heard to be appreciated. How highly it is enjoyed by the most discriminating audiences is attested by this Band, by their concerts in the Astor and Biltmore Hotels, and the Century Roof and Palace Theaters, New York City, the Ritz-Carlton, Hotel, the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, etc. That this is indeed a musical novelty may be inferred by the fact that there are but three bands of this nature in the United States and of these, the one that will appear here on the program of the Radcliffe Chautauqua is the only company which was selected to make the successful phonograph records now before the public.

TOBACCO GROWER MARKET HERE IS NOT YET CERTAIN

Ed. L. Walton, who has charge in Danville of the affairs of the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association was seen yesterday and was asked regarding the reported sale of property on Loyal street to the Association for the building of a delivery warehouse. Mr. Walton said that he was not in a position to say anything regarding the alleged transaction adding that some statement might be given at a later date. Another man, however, who is close to the organization, and who is familiar with its workings, while declining to affirm or deny the report, left the distinct impression that the deal has been made. He admitted having been in telephone conversation Wednesday with Mr. Walton regarding the matter.

It is most likely that since the Co-operative Marketing Association has its publicity headquarters at Raleigh, N. C., that the first authoritative announcement of the reported sale will be made from that point and it is likely to be made this week.

The Co-operative Association is reported to have been anxious lately to secure either Banner or Union warehouses under a rental contract but failed to interest the Danville Warehouse Corporation which some months ago made arrangements to operate these houses under the auction plan.

The offer said to have been made by the owners of Piedmont Warehouse to the Association for out-right sale is reported to have been $100,000 but this proposition was not accepted by the Association and it is understood now to have been withdrawn.

COPPER STILL IS CAPTURED

State prohibition agents yesterday morning reported capture of a copper still of sixty gallons capacity, running still, on the Milton road near Myers' store. The raid was made at ten o'clock and J. R. Myers was arrested after a chase of about 100 yards, charged with violating the Mapp Act, and was removed to Chatham County Jail. The officers reported that the still was a copper outfit with cap and worm. Four fermenters and 200 gallons of "beer" was poured out. According to W. T. Shelton, who with J. H. Haskins made the raid, it was Myers' second offense.

MRS. STANFIELD BURIED

The funeral of Mrs. Mollie Alice Stanfield, who died suddenly Monday night from heart failure was held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence on Ridge St. The services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Wilson and interment was made in Leemont cemetery.

The pall-bearers were George Moore, E. O. Hall, E. V. Broggs, J. Layne, James Jackson and C. J. Parrott. The floral designs were carried by Hester Burroughs, Margie Smith, Maude Smith, Mollie Lyle, Claire Brown, Lila Meadows and Maggie Harris.

IN MAYOR'S COURT

It required but a few minutes to dispose of the docket in the police court yesterday, only three minor cases being heard. A full session have struck Danville as far as police activities are concerned, for during the past several days happenings have been few and far between. Bert McCray, colored, was made to pay $1.50 for allowing her dog to run at large without a muzzle. Dave Canada paid a like amount for the same charge. A. J. Allen paid the costs of the warrant, $3.45 for not having the proper tag on his machine.

GLASS IS CALLED LIAR BY HEFFIN OF ALABAMA

WASHINGTON, June 22.—During the course of debate in the Senate today Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, was called a "liar" by Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, after the Virginian had declared that a statement by Senator Hefflin was false. Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, called the two senators to order and they took their seats.

Senator Hefflin was seeking unanimous consent for immediate consideration of a resolution which he had introduced which would direct federal reserve banks to forward to the Senate the names of other banks to which they had sent a speech delivered by Senator Glass in the Senate in defense of the reserve system some months ago. Following the clash between the two Senators, Mr. Hefflin, Republican, entered objection to immediate action on the resolution and the Alabama senator began an attack on Senator McLean who he described as "the defender of banking interests in the Senate."

Senator Glass, later addressed the Senate in an effort, he said, to set it right as to some phases of the controversy between himself and the Alabama senator. He told the Senate he had "very carefully refrained from participation" in any of the discussions concerning the reserve system though the senator from Alabama, "as since his speech of last January," "he attempted to reply to it for me at the time of his speech."

The Virginian senator said he had no objection to circulation of his speech by the banks but denied that he had sponsored it. He said he had sent some of them to him in response to literally thousands of requests.

YOUTH IS SHOT BY PLAYMATE

What came near proving a fatal accident occurred Tuesday afternoon last, on Macon avenue, Schoolfield. Two young boys, named Gillespie and Sams, were playing with a twenty-two calibre rifle, when accidentally the weapon exploded and inflicted an ugly and dangerous wound in the stomach of young Sams. Dr. W. B. Sager was immediately called and carried the wounded boy to the hospital where he rendered skillful and immediate treatment. At last reports the boy was improving.

BOYS WHO TOOK ROEDIGER CAR BROUGHT BACK

Police officer W. T. Kessler arrived on train No. 36 from Charlotte yesterday afternoon, bringing back to Danville Charles Jordan, Robert Douthett and Fletcher Smith, who have been held there for some days in connection with the taking of H. L. Roediger's limousine last Sunday evening. The three boys were bailed by Magistrate Griggs for $1,500 each for their appearance Tuesday, June 27.

The local authorities did not wait for action by Governor Trinkle in securing official sanction for the expenses of the undertaking as is usually done. Chief of Police Bell said today that the parents of the youths involved had undertaken to pay the expenses incidental to the trip. It has been found out that the three above named boys were seen drinking on the grounds of the Memorial Mansion Sunday afternoon and again that night.

FARRINGTON SAYS 45 PERSONS WERE KILLED AT MINE

CINCINNATI, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Forty four persons, of whom were union coal miners, were killed in the mine disaster at Herrin, Ill., according to the statement today of Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois district organization of the United Mine Workers of America.

Mr. Farrington declared he had received his information from an official of the union at Herrin, but he refused to disclose the identity of his informant. He also said that he had not agreed to permit the mine where the trouble occurred, to operate, which it was said, was possible under the union's general strike policy to permit mining of coal to fuel public utilities.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—The American Federation of Labor convention today adopted a program centering around four proposed constitutional amendments.

RICHMOND MAN REVEALS FACTS ABOUT HIS CASE

He Feels Like Different Person, Says R. E. Criddle, Since Tanlac Completely Relieved Him of Long-Standing Stomach Trouble.

"Since taking Tanlac I have been in finer health in years," said R. E. Criddle, 110 N. Robinson St., Richmond, Va.

"I suffered from stomach trouble so I felt that during the day while at work I would get so nauseated and weak that I would have to stop and rest. Hardly a thing I ate agreed with me and the pains and cramps were something terrible. I had a bad taste in my mouth nearly all the time. At times I felt so miserable I went to bed as soon as I got home but was in such pain I could hardly rest at all.

"Tanlac has made a different man of me. All my troubles have disappeared and I can just go on with my life without trouble afterwards. I am glad to tell what a fine medicine Tanlac is."

HAND-MADE FROCKS LEAD IN FASHION PARADE

MORE popular than any other one kind of frock this summer is the one that is hand-made or trimmed with handwork.

Little hand-made dresses of sheer voile, organdie, linen or crepe de chine are shown in the smartest shops.

They are usually simply slipover dresses with an elastic at the waist and are trimmed with rows of hand-stitched tucks or with bits of plain drawn work and double hemstitching.

Many of the crepe de chine dresses are trimmed with Russian embroidery in brilliant colors—peasant designs of fruit or flowers for the most part.

Hand-made blouses are equally popular and are seen in voile, batiste and crepe de chine.

None of the handwork is elaborate—often just a line of hemstitching with a square of drawn work at intersecting corners.

One extremely good looking sport blouse noted was of white crepe de chine with its collar and cuffs embroidered in an all-over pattern of colored polka dots.

St. Louis In Lead With 426 Murders

Judge Gemmill Presents the Year's Statistics to the Bar Association—New York Down List.

NEW YORK, June 21.—St. Louis led the country in murders and homicides last year and had more than ten capital crimes for every one in New York, according to statistics gathered by Judge William N. Gemmill of Chicago and furnished to the Committee on Law Enforcement of the American Bar Association.

The statistics collected by Judge Gemmill are the most reliable in existence, according to Chairman William B. Swaney of the committee, who said that the lack of good crime statistics was one of the serious drawbacks to the study of crime conditions in this country.

While the record of St. Louis last year was the worst, Los Angeles stand pre-eminent as a center of crime on a seven-year survey.

The criminals stay away from Delaware because of the whipping post Judge Gemmill finds. More than 1,600 criminals were lashed in England last year, a practice which he heartily commends.

St. Louis had 426 murders in 1921, and 53 for each 100,000 inhabitants, Judge Gemmill reports. New York has one of the lowest scores among the big cities.

"New York," said Judge Gemmill, "which people think is a very wicked city, it high up on the honor roll, so far as murder is concerned. St. Paul, alone having fewer arrests for murder than Chicago ranks third, Cincinnati fourth, Buffalo fifth and New Orleans sixth.

"By comparison, Los Angeles has three times as many murders in proportion to the population as New York and two and a half times as many as Chicago. Washington has three times as many as New York, Detroit, which it is to be called a model city, has more than as many as New York and a little more than the number in Chicago, while St. Louis reports 232 arrests for murder and 36 for manslaughter in 1921.

"What is true as to murder is partly true as to other major crimes. If the balance of the year 1922 equals January and February of this year, Los Angeles will lead all other cities in the number of burglaries and housebreakings. She is not even closely followed by any other large city. Chicago comes next on the roll of dishonor, followed closely by Washington, Baltimore, Buffalo, St. Louis, San Francisco, Boston, St. Paul, Cleveland, New York, New Orleans, Denver, Cincinnati, and Louisville in the order named.

"In arrests for intoxication Boston outranks all cities. But Chicago with either a sense or pride or humiliation, refuses to list her cases.

"In contrast with these figures I have collected the latest statistics from Canada and England and Wales concerning the same crimes. About 600,000 people are arrested in England and Wales annually. The population there is about twice times that of Chicago and seven times that of New York. For every arrest for murder in England and Wales in 1920, Chicago had eight and a half.

New York six and three-quarters and St. Louis too many to count.

"The American Bar Association is doing a new service in trying to discover the causes of crime. I predict, however, that it will conclude that the one great cause is the lack of enforcement. Laws are the product of civilized society. They are made to protect the innocent and punish the guilty. When they fail in doing either one of these two things, they fail society and society degenerates into savagery. Wherever you find a lax enforcement of law you find crime. Public officials can never have an alibi. Success in enforcing the law can be their only password. Excuses won't go.

"The only reason why there is less crime in England than here is because there the law is supreme and whatever is needed to make it respected is done. It was for this reason that the penalty of flogging has been kept upon their statute books for a thousand years, and this last year over 1,600 criminals were flogged by order of court.

"The penalty applies to wife beaters, professional crooks, pickpockets, hold-up men and some burglars. Nothing is so feared as fifty strokes upon the bare back with the birch rod. These professional criminals criminals have fled and come to our shores.

"We have only one state that they have shunned and that is Delaware, where they receive the same lashes as they do in London—and why should we be squeamish about it? There are at least 500 professional criminals in Chicago. The police know them all, but in our desire never to punish the innocent we have learned too far backward and these crooks have terrorized our cities, driven us from the streets in fear, murdered and robbed our loved ones. Is it not better that we should inflict stripes upon their bare backs (the only thing they fear) than that the law will be defied and our homes invaded?

"Whatever is necessary to make these crooks understand that this is a government of law and order, that we must do. Ninety-nine per cent of our people are honest and law-abiding. They must not be ruled or intimidated by the other one per cent. "Crime is not generally profitable to the criminal, and when he is made to realize that punishment is swift and certain and drastic, he will look for other fields in which to exercise his talents."

Judge Gemmill found that there was no crime wave at present, but that crime had reached its peak in 1920 and had been on the decline. He denied that the war was responsible in the sense that it hardened the characters of young men who had been of good life previously, but found that the law delivery of criminals let them fight or do war work was one of the potent causes.

Wife Of Soldier Robbed By Negro On Murder Scene

NEWPORT NEWS, June 22.—Bloodhounds lost the trail of the giant negro who yesterday night kidnapped the wife of an army sergeant in Chicago. The woman, Miss Rose Brady, was murdered Saturday night, June 19. The authorities believe the negro can throw some light on the murder of Miss Brady and possibly the death of Sergeant Crouse, Saturday night, June 3.

Mrs. Thomas Collier, wife of a quartermaster sergeant at Camp Buist, was walking hurriedly through a clump of woods near the camp to her husband's office at 1105, which she carried in a small handbag. She did not see the negro until he had her purse. "I was warning of any kind, two hours later she sank in a faint."

Chief of Police Patrick, who promised some sensational developments in the Brady case, has not yet made any statement. He was not to be located today.

An official statement by army authorities today said that Miss Brady was assaulted after her death. Members of the family declared that she was not assaulted, while department of justice agents issued a statement recently that she was assaulted.

Scoop's Colyum
DRAKENS BRANCH, June 23.—(Grapvine, Virginia.) The latest man who ever knew was Joe Doollittle, who moved to the Branch from North Carolina some years ago. From the day of his arrival he was one of our most prominent citizens—prominent because he was in ways in sight, occupying a cracker box inside the general store or an up-ended stump in the shade if the weather was warm. Joe thought there was something the matter with him. There was, only he did not agree with his neighbors on the diagnosis. A traveling doctor left a pamphlet on rheumatism which said folks who had it couldn't bear to move, and he said that just hit his case. Then somebody sent him a treatise on the nerves; after looking up all the hard words in the dictionary he decided it was his nerves. When the doctor came along, he was certain this was his affliction. But his neighbors agreed unanimously and simultaneously that what ailed him was the oldest disease known to man. They said he was probably first attacked five after she ate the Malden Blues and discovered that she needed a new outfit, and needed it bad, until she reflected as how she'd have to do the family wash every Monday the rest of her life. Ancient, time-honored malady of pure unadulterated, 100 per cent. laziness! Deep staph. Think it over!

SCARAMOUCHE
by Rafael Sabatini
BEGIN HERE TODAY
There were two burning motives in the heart of Andre-Louis Moreau which drove him to seek vengeance on the great noble of the Marquis de La Tour d'Azyr. The Marquis de La Tour d'Azyr, the profligate noble was suing for the hand of the young and beautiful Aline de Kercaidiou, niece of the Lord of Gavrilac. QUENTIN DE KERCAIDIOU, who was a popular hero, had been burning hatred of the Marquis since the day he had seen the Marquis' friend, the young and idealistic PHILIPPE DE VILMORIN, a polytechnic student, who had been a gift of Andre-Louis, and feeling that the rumblings of discontent which were making way for the French Revolution would bring danger to his class, deliberately provoked a duel and killed the young student. Andre-Louis decided to set out for Rennes and lay the case before the King's Lieutenant.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VI
It was on a horse hired from the Breton Arms that Andre-Louis set out next morning; and an hour's brisk ride brought him to the city of Rennes. He rode into the upper and principal part of that important city of some thirty thousand souls and came at last to the Place Royale, where he found the crowd to be most dense. From the plinth of the equestrian statue of Louis XIII, a white-faced young man was excitedly addressing the multitude. His youth and dress proclaimed the student, and a group of his fellows acting as a guard of honor to him kept the immediate precincts of the statue. Over the heads of the crowd Andre-Louis caught a few of the phrases flung forth by that eager voice. "It was the promise of the King. It is the King's authority they fight. They are going to themselves the whole sovereignty in Brittany. The King has dissolved them. These insolent nobles defying their sovereign and the people..." Had he not known already of the events which had brought the Third Estate to the point of active revolt, those few phrases would fully have informed him. This popular display of temper was most opportune to his need, he thought. He put up his hired horse at the Corne de Cerf, and set out to the Palais de Justice. That the King's Lieutenant condescended to see him at all was probably due to the grave complexion of the hour. At last he was ushered into a fine, well-lighted room furnished with enough gilt and satin to have supplied the boudoir of a lady of fashion. It was a trivial setting for a King's Lieutenant, but about the King's Lieutenant there was at least to ordinary eyes—nothing trivial. At the far end of the chamber, before a goat-legged writing-table with Watteau panels, sat that exalted being, Above a scarlet coat with an order flaming on its breast, and a billow of lace in which diamonds sparkled like drops of water, spouted the massive powdered head of M. de Lesdigueres. It was thrown back to scowl with expectant arrogance. M. de Lesdigueres considered him very sternly. "What is your name?" he asked. "Andre-Louis Moreau," he answered. "Well, Andre-Louis Moreau, if you can state your plea briefly, I will hear you."

"AND WHO, SIR, IS THE MAN YOU CHARGE WITH THIS?"
gret its gibbness." He waved a jeweled, contemptuous hand. "To the door!"
CHAPTER VII
HE had broken his futile lance with the windmill—the image suggested by M. de Kercaidiou persisted in his mind—and it was, he perceived, by sheer good fortune that he had escaped without hurt. There remained the wind itself—the whirlwind And the events in Rennes, reflex of the graver events in Nantes, had met that wind blowing in his favor. He set out briskly to retrace his steps toward the Place Royale, where the gathering of the populace was greatest. There were cries "To the Palais! Down with the assassins! Down with the nobles!" An artisan who stood shoulder to shoulder with him in the press enlightened Andre-Louis on the score of the increased excitement. "They've shot him dead. His body is lying there where it fell at the foot of the statue. And there was another student killed not an hour ago by the cathedral works. Fard! If they can't prevail in one way they'll prevail in another." Andre-Louis left him still talking, and clove a way through that human press.

Halifax Crime Solved?
JOHNSON, ALIAS PRIMATCH-ENC.
THROUGH a confession said to have been made by William Johnson, alias N. Primatchenk, it is possible that a solution may be found to the mystery of the Halifax explosion of 1917, the most serious disaster on this "wide o' fine water" in connection with the world war. Johnson or Primatchenk, a Finn, has been living in a cabin in the Shagan County, Wash. wilds. Neighbors say he boasted that he had a hand in the Halifax affair. It is a fact that much of his time was devoted to experiments with explosives. United States and Canadian secret service, operating on investigation, found the refugee perhaps repentant and his words in his cabin. He is said to have been a member of the "Black Legion" and was charged by his neighbors with being a "bad man" and a "bad influence". The confession is said to have been made in the hope that evidence will be found pointing to accomplices. The accomplices portrait is from the only picture of Johnson believed in existence.

THE PRIMARY
(Cleveland Plain Dealer)
When Secretary Weeks tells the graduating class at Reserve that in his opinion the direct primary is not fulfilling the promises of its advocates he speaks "what is on the mind of President Harding and is giving the intelligent Americans generally no small concern. He might well cite the situation in Ohio as an example of what occurs not uncommonly under the system of district nomination. Attention was called to this last week in these columns. The primary has doubtless accomplished some good in Ohio; particularly by way of arousing a wider interest and a keener sense of responsibility among the people in political affairs. It has cured some of the more obvious defects of the old convention system. It has not, however, performed anything even resembling a miracle and the question is timely for discussion whether at the next session of the legislature steps shall be taken to modify the primary. Secretary Weeks himself, a former member of the Senate, observes a lowered average of statesmanship in Congress as a result of the direct nominating system. Any candid observer will find the same thing true of State legislatures, and of elective offices generally. The primary invites the entrance of untrained, irresponsible candidates and tends to discourage the able, better fitted men from getting in. As a result there are frequently elected to important positions in the public service men of slight talent, or worse who could not have been chosen under the former scheme of nomination. Men are entered for office in the present primary campaign in Ohio who possess no convincing qualifications for the posts they seek but who know perfectly well they may be elected either because of the money they are willing to spend—legitimate, we mean—because they are clever at advertising, happen to possess a familiar family name or a name similar to that of a popular office holder. It is an easy matter for anyone to get his name on the primary ballot; fate and advertising may do the rest. We live under a government by parties. Long experience has failed to develop any better plan. If the majority is to speak through parties there must be some reasonable measure of party control and reasonable measure of party control and responsibility in the selection of candidates for office. As matters now stand any Tom, Dick or Harry may enter the primary and, emerging successfully, go before the voters at election bearing the label of a party, which as an organization had no part in his nomination and has no confidence in his integrity. Such a situation does not promote efficient or responsive government. Any proposition to abolish the old convention plan would be rejected by the people and probably by the legislature. The best radical step should be necessary to correct present evils. The best hope lies in a combination of primary and convention whereby, without depriving voters of the privilege of picking their own candidates, reasonable party responsibility will be restored and the present hit-or-miss uncertainty of the nominating system cured. If the next general assembly is not ready to legislate definitely to this end it should at least authorize an inquiry and report which may lead to legislation later. The present situation does not conduce to popular confidence in government.

THOSE TERRIBLE EXAMS
ROSELLE, N. J., June 22.—A fire, which it is believed has been set by a pupil who feared the result of the June examinations was discovered and extinguished with a hose in the classroom of the "best" school today by the Misses Cletus Hamlin and Ruby Ford, teachers. The teachers reported they heard footsteps in the hallway just before they smelled smoke.

Whom Shall Molly Marry?
Madness As the Handsome Actor Asks For Molly's Hand.
BY ZOE BECKLEY
Music and thence were in the blood of Molly Wayne, that night as she fox-trotted on the floor of the Midvale Boat Club. With her were three suitors, each an avowed candidate for her hand. There were BEN WHEELER, keen and efficient manufacturer, and BILLY BARTON, youthful architect. And then there was the good looking dancer then holding her in his arms. DONALD MANNING, leading man in the local stock company. "Come out in the skiff for a moment," Don pleaded. "I want to talk to you."

At the statue's base he came upon a little cluster of students about the body of the murdered lad, all stricken with fear and helplessness. "You hear, Moreau?" said a voice. He looked round to find himself confronted by Le Chapellier, a lawyer of Rennes, a prominent member of the Literary Chamber of that city. "Ah, it is you, Chapellier! Why don't you tell them what to do? Up with you, man!" And he pointed to the plinth. Le Chapellier's dark restless eyes searched the other's impassive face for some trace of irony he suspected. "Your notions and mine on that score can hardly coincide," said he. Andre-Louis looked at him with-out surprise. How should Le Chapellier suspect his present intentions? "If you won't tell them what is to be done, I will," said he. "Vient de Dieu! If you want to invite a bullet from the other side, I shall not hinder you." Scarcely were the words out than he repeated them; for as if in answer to that challenge Andre-Louis sprang up on to the plinth. Alarmed now, for he could only suppose it to be Andre-Louis' intention to speak on behalf of Privilege, Le Chapellier clutched him by the legs to pull him down again. "Ah, that, no!" he was shouting. "Come down, you fool. Come down!" Andre-Louis maintaining his position by clutching one of the legs of the bronze horse, flung his voice like a bugle-note over the heads of that seething mob. "Citizens of Rennes, the mother-

JUNE CASTLETON VANISHES
BOSTON, June 23.—June Castleton has vanished, leaving fearful notes to her parents and to Adn Caswell. June is a member of the "Sally" company—or was, until she spoke openly of her high regard for Dan Caswell. Caswell is a Cleveland, and heir to a considerable fortune. He married Jessie Reed, of the "Follies" a year or so ago, after a courtship that warmed the hearts of Broadway. In consequence the manager of the "Sally" company—which has been having unpleasant times in Boston—gave Miss Castleton notice. Then she vanished. The fires of romance again burned themselves out, however, and Dan and Jessie parted. But Dan kept up his friendship with other members of the Ziegfeld productions, being especially nice to Miss Castleton. In consequence the manager of the "Sally" company—which has been having unpleasant times in Boston—gave Miss Castleton notice. Then she vanished.

MOTHER, TWO DAUGHTERS, IN BUSINESS TOGETHER
MRS. LILLIAN SUMMERS AND HER TWO DAUGHTERS—QUEEN (LEFT), AN DPEARL (RIGHT).
"MAKE business a family affair," says Mrs. Summers, "is a family affair of years ago." Mrs. Summers, who conducts a real estate business in Arlington, N. J., has found her two daughters, Queen and An Dpearl, to be of great value to her in their business. "A woman who is successful in business," she says, "must be able to take her daughters into partnership in a few years."

Belfast Reacts On Wilson's Murder

Great Anxiety Experienced There As High Feeling Over London Tragedy Is Manifested.

(By The Associated Press) BELFAST, June 23.—The situation here is one of great anxiety today because of the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson at London. The military was forced to fire on the mob several times, casualties by midforenoon were six wounded.

A RELAY RACE

A relay race has been arranged between the Y. M. C. A.'s of Schoolfield and Danville the same to be run on Wednesday at 7 o'clock. Each association will enter a team of eight men, each man running a half mile, starting from their respective associations. The runners will carry a message from their association to the sister organization and return to their respective associations. The estate of the committee and it promises to be one of unusual interest for spectators and the young men of the associations.

"Wife Wanted"

Notice Results In Wedding

FREDERICKSBURG, June 22.—Richard A. Wheeler, of this city, a short time ago inserted an advertisement in a local newspaper for a wife. As a result of the romance fostered by the newspaper, Mr. Wheeler and Mrs. Kate Shelton, of Stafford county, were united in matrimony in the national capital Tuesday afternoon, the groom, a widower, and the bride, a widow, are each 40 years of age. The new Mrs. Wheeler has no unmarried children. The couple will make their home at Mr. Wheeler's residence in this city. Mr. Wheeler declared he received letters from Baltimore, Washington, Cedar Lane and other points in Virginia and North Carolina. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are perfectly happy and do not desire any more answers to the wife-wanted advertisement.

S. S. BASEBALL TEAMS TO HOLD A RALLY

A rally of all men belonging to the baseball teams of the various Sunday schools in the Sunday schools athletic league will be held in the M. C. A. building on Thursday, June 28, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of this gathering is to give the men of the various teams the opportunity of meeting one another and talking over the interests of the league.

Noell Suit Due To Start At 2:30

The trial of suit for damages instituted by Lora Geo, aged 12, through her mother, Mrs. R. M. Geo, against W. Y. Noell, is expected to get under way at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. This is a civil action to recover $30,000 from the local tobacco dealer. The case was set for this morning at ten o'clock, but the corporation court docket became disrupted several days ago and this morning the Walker-Blankenship damage suit remained to be argued, this being expected to consume the entire morning session. The Geo-Noell case was therefore set tentatively for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Should both sides be then ready there will be first of all the task of selecting a jury which is expected to consume a good deal of time owing to widespread discussion of the case and there will also be arguments about the special pleas entered in the case. One of the attorneys questioned this morning quibbled if the taking of evidence could be started on Saturday morning, in which event the case will go over the week end and will probably be concluded on Monday evening. It has been conceded for some time that the trial would last at least two days and the present prospect is that even with a night session tonight it could not be finished tomorrow night.

A strong array of counsel are engaged on both sides. Mr. Noell is represented by Julian and Edwin Meade, Eugene Withers and Malcolm Kerr, Harris, John Lee of Lynchburg and Duval Martin, also of the Hill City are here to represent the plaintiff in the case.

It was learned from a reliable source today that the defense will offer one or two witnesses who have not been heard before and who it is claimed will throw a new light on the case. It is intimated that much is expected by the defense from this evidence secured since the trial of the criminal case.

The action for damages centers around an alleged simple assault on the young girl who claims to have been "damaged" as a result of the charged attack in the Noell factory on April 19th, 1921. The declaration of the plaintiff sets forth numerous allegations as is usual in such papers. The three principal grounds of defense are, first, that the plaintiff suffered no damage, secondly, that the defendant denies categorically every allegation in the declaration and thirdly, that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover punitive exemplary or vindictive damages. The further plea is made that the suit for punitive damages should not be maintained pending the outcome of the criminal case, it being contended that on May 1921, the defendant was tried, the jury disagreeing and that in September, 1921, the jury acquitted the defendant of a felonious assault but convicted him of a simple assault an appeal being taken to the Supreme court where it is now pending.

Ghandi Is Lauded On His Conviction

BATALA, India, June 22.—M. K. Ghandi has been congratulated on his conviction by the Punjab provincial conference, which at the same time expressed in a second resolution its appreciation of the stand made by the people of the province during the past few months against the restrictions imposed upon them by the government. The conference declared its firm adherence to the policy of non-violent non-cooperation recommended by three successive sessions of the Indian national congress as the only means of attaining political freedom in the immediate future, and called upon the people to adhere to the strict observance of non-violence. Later resolutions called for the establishment of a regularly constituted university to carry out the constructive program of national education which has been adopted and to direct and control the various national educational activities in the province. The proposed university would open scientific, technical and industrial departments and would be incorporated with the national college already existing at Lahore.

The conference expressed its complete agreement with the Central Khilafat committee and held that the proposals of the latter conference were unjust and sinister for the Turks.

The conference was presided over by N. Santanam. In the course of his presidential address, Mr. Santanam said:

"A careful study of the present situation will convince even the most hostile critic that we have achieved almost or nearly all that we had in view. Hindu-Mohammedan differences have been the root cause of our weakness but are nearly non-existent today. We have made rapid strides in sinking our differences and creating that atmosphere of mutual trust and good will without which no common endeavor is possible.

"I do not mean to say that we have done all we wanted to do, but I most certainly maintain that we have advanced so far in this matter that our future is full of promise and there is no room for despondency. It is true, no doubt, that we have not wrested power from the hand of the bureaucracy, but that is only a question of time. If we would only persevere in the same path and with the same zeal, then day would not be far distant when we would have secured full Swaraj."

J. B. Hayworth Badly Wounded By Gunshot

HIGH POINT, June 22.—J. Baxter Hayworth, the Lexington merchant who was shot in a critical condition at High Point as a result of a bullet wound in his head about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, is in a serious condition in a local hospital where he has been lying since the shooting. It is reported that Hayworth was shot while he was out for a walk in the park and that he was not hurt at all. He was shot in the head and the bullet entered the brain. He was taken to the hospital and is now lying in bed. He is expected to recover, but it is not certain.

U.S. To Pay Thrift Fees To Ship Men

WASHINGTON, June 21.—With the shipping season open and the summer months ahead, the U.S. Coast Guard will begin paying a new fee to the shipping companies for the maintenance of the lifeboats on the ships. The fee is $100 a month for each lifeboat on a ship of 100 tons or more, and $50 for each lifeboat on a ship of less than 100 tons. The fee is to be paid in advance, and the shipping companies are to be allowed to deduct it from the freight charges. Astronomers Detect Invisible Sun Spots

PASADENA, Cal., June 21.—Invisible sun spots have been discovered by George Ellery Hale, director of the Mount Wilson Observatory, has announced that through their magnetic effects, he and his associates have detected solar storms that cannot be photographed or seen through the telescope. Ten of these invisible spots have been found in the last few months by Hale, E. E. E. and Nicholson, working with the 100-foot telescope and the 75-foot spectroscopic telescope. It is expected that the further study of these objects will help explain the origin and nature of sun spots. Dr. Hale discovered that a sun spot is a great swirling storm, similar to a terrestrial tornado, but on a much larger scale. The expansion of the hot solar gases, caused by the centrifugal action of the whirl, cools them sufficiently to produce the appearance of a dark cloud which we call a sun spot. If this cooling is not sufficient to produce a visible darkening of the surface, the whirl, which may still be present, though invisible to the eye, such invisible spots have now been detected by Hale.

Gland Doctor

Dr. Victor Leepinase, gland expert, who performed an operation on Harold F. McCormick, harvester millionaire. The doctor's fee was big. Dr. Leepinase, a man of about 40, with a high forehead and a serious expression, was seen in the hospital. He was wearing a white coat and a white tie. He was standing in front of a large window, looking out at the city. He was talking to a man who was standing next to him. The man was wearing a suit and a tie. He was looking at the doctor with a serious expression. The doctor was looking at the man with a serious expression. The man was looking at the doctor with a serious expression. McCormick Mends; Hint New Romance

CHICAGO, June 21.—Harold F. McCormick will be up and out of the Wesley Hospital the latter part of the week. All indications point to a swift trip to Europe, accompanied by his daughter, Mathilde. His father, Cyrus H. McCormick, and Mrs. Mathilde were called today. It is hinted that reports of a romance between McCormick and Gina Walska are without foundation. A local society woman a divorcee of the last year, is said to be the one to whom Mr. McCormick has been attentive. McCormick may sail on the Olympic Saturday. Meantime the contention of homeopaths here has invited Dr. Leepinase to appear before it on Thursday to describe his methods of transferring glands and his views as to the value of such an operation. Dr. Robert Drake Griffith of Los Angeles was among the defenders of the operation. He asserted that gland operations generally should be beneficial and that Mr. McCormick made no mistake when he chose human glands because for beneficial results they are really to be preferred to goat glands. Dr. A. F. Christian of Boston, who has made extensive research into the possibilities of rejuvenation said the harvest of milligrams might feed the depression of age returning in six months. Because of the intricacies of transplantation the acquired gland will quickly lose vitality, he said. Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York City, said he doubted if the operation would be successful in any except the slightest degree. "No man has yet been able to transplant a gland from one animal to another and maintain its function," he said.

American Girl Is Turk Angel

MONTENEGRO, June 21.—Mrs. Margaret N. Robins, an American girl, has been made an "angel" by the Turkish population of this city. Mrs. Robins, who came from Philadelphia, has been doing Red Cross work among the poor of "Turkey Town," the Moslem quarter of Podgoritz, where she has come to be worshipped as "the American angel." She has saved the lives of many women and children and the grateful natives look upon her with the reverence and adoration of a patron saint. India is equal in area to all of Europe with the exception of Russia.

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die"—Judge Rutherford

B. A. ROGERS

There is special significance in the troublous days through which the world has passed since 1914. Out of these events will come greater developments, involving all nations and peoples. The Bible accurately foretold present conditions. Its prophecies regarding the future will be fulfilled with equal exactness. The outstanding hope held forth in the Scriptures is the hope of eternal life, and the realization of this hope is now at hand. It will be accompanied by all that the heart has longed for—health, peace, and happiness. God's purpose in giving man a revelation of His Plan was that mankind should use it, understand it, and appreciate the principles it sets forth. An understanding of the Bible broadens one's view and inspires cheerfulness and optimism. Prophecies of old have described with glowing tongues the glories of that bright day that is now dawning. Hear the subject discussed at length, by B. A. Rogers, of Richmond, Va., Sunday, June 25, 3 p. m. at the Owls Hall over McFall's Drug Store on Main Street.

This lecture has comforted multitudes bereaved by the World War, epidemics, and attending sorrows. So great has been the demand that it has been amplified and published in book form, including 700 Scriptural proof texts. Those unable to hear the lecture may have a copy by sending 25 cents to I. B. Policeman Oakes Tried At Graham

GRAHAM, June 12.—Not before tomorrow afternoon will D. B. Oakes, youthful former member of the Greensboro police force, know the outcome of his fate on a charge of having shot to death Thomas Robertson, of Leesville, S. C., between Greensboro and Reidsville on the night of May 4, 1921. It is not probable that any verdict can be returned by the jury, prior to early tomorrow afternoon and possibly not then. Oakes, in general opinion, until a few weeks ago, did not anticipate that Oakes could ever be brought to trial, the state appears to be making every possible effort to secure a conviction and a strenuous fight is being waged on the former motorcycle officer by Solicitor S. M. Gattis, while the able assistance is being rendered the prosecution by J. D. Lee, member of the Rockingham bar. For the defense there is a most imposing array of legal counsel consisting of Judge W. P. Eynum and Judge R. C. Struwick of Greensboro and Parker and Long, of Graham. Heated verbal passages between counsel to the prosecution and the defense which at times grew so warm as to call for firm remonstrance from the bench probably constituted the outstanding feature of the first day of the trial. The case began yesterday afternoon at 10 o'clock in the court room with Judge John H. Keir, president, which the following jury was impaneled: J. H. Freshwater, W. J. McAdams, W. H. Coble, L. E. Qualis, J. Edgar Long, J. F. Shaw, Thomas Isley, I. H. Neese, H. W. Graves, J. M. Garrison, James Whitesell and J. M. Isley. Seated with his gray-headed father, Mr. Oakes did not appear to be very much perturbed when his case was called this morning immediately after court convened. He was neatly dressed, clean shaven and appeared to be perfectly calm. Holding frequent conferences with attorneys, for the prosecution with the father of Thomas Robertson, the slain youth, and the two fathers were the only relatives of either Oakes or Robertson present for the trial. The courtroom was crowded early this morning when the first witness was called, all seat being occupied and a number of the curious who had been unable to find accommodations been forced to take up positions in the aisles. There were a number of ladies in the court room from time to time, but none of these were related to either the defendant or the dead man. At least one-half of the people present during the day came from Greensboro, the home of the former officer who is accused of second degree murder.

Priest's Humanity Met By Blackmail

NEW YORK, June 21.—Two men who attempted to blackmail a priest who befriended them were arraigned before Magistrate McAndrews in Essex Market court yesterday afternoon and held in $5,000 bail each for the grand jury. Both pleaded guilty. They said they were David Dalton, 24, St. Louis, and William Bell, 27, of Chicago. They went to the Tomb. The pair, strangers in the city and adrift on the east side appealed to the Rev. Robert Murphy, pastor of St. Rose's Roman Catholic church. The priest gave them money. They came back and the priest gave them more. A boy brought a note to the priest's home June 12. It was from Dalton and Bell and said that unless Father Murphy gave them $100 they would expose him because they had "heard him swear." The priest, who had been in the city for a long time, met Dalton and Bell at a hotel and gave them the money. Dalton was putting them in his pocket when Hagan arrested him. The policeman questioned the priest, and learned that Bell was in the Columbia hotel, Division street and the Bowery. Hagan arrested him. A London policeman has retired with a record of having arrested 146 motorists for speeding and other offenses. Shoes are now being made of fish and snake skin.

TROGS FISH, SAYS SQUIRE

GREENSBORO, Pa., June 22.—Ninety-four frogs, three pit lamps and a can of corn, together with four men, were taken into Squire Todd Truax's office by State police and the men were fined $25 each, the frogs restored to their native haunts and pit lamps sent to the State Game Commission at Harrisburg.

Governor Wouldn't Be Disturbed; So Boy Goes To Chair

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
DO murderers go to their death with a lie on their lips? Joseph Cohen, who saw 13 men pass through the little green door at Sing Sing before he was saved from the chair several minutes before his turn came, says: "No—unless they are trying to protect someone else." That's what led to the legal murder of Tommy Bambrick.

IN New York not many years ago Tommy Bambrick, a lad of 20, was found guilty of murder. According to Thomas Mott Osborne, who was warden at Sing Sing then, the boy was innocent of the crime. He knew the real murderer, but refused to "squeal." While Tommy was in the death house, the warden got a tip from an other prisoner as to the identity of the real culprit. He followed up the clue and discovered the man.

They tried to charter a special train to Albany—but it was too late. The hour for his death grew near. But Tommy just bit his lips a little tighter, and said nothing. The zero hour came—with no reprieve from the governor or stay from the court.

TRIBUTE PAID TO PATHFINDER

RICHMOND, Va., June 22.—Tribute to the genius of Matthew Fontaine Maury, attested to by practically all countries save America, his birthplace, were paid to the "pathfinder of the seas" by Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia and Dr. A. B. Candler, president of state normal school for women at Fredericksburg this afternoon at the laying of the cornerstone of the Matthew Fontaine Maury memorial here.

NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAMES

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 22.—Opening games of the Bush League season at Marion and Statesville, near here, developed into two no-hit, no-run affairs. For 24 men faced Haney, pitching for Marion in nine innings, one man reaching first on an infield error. He was the only one to get there. Haney fanned 18 Baxter Moose, pitching for Statesville fanned eight men and allowed no hits, two men reaching first, one walked and one on an error.

DANVILLE VS. TWINS

Danville will play two games with the Twins here this week, the first to be called at Stonewall Jackson park this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Tomorrow will probably pitch. After this series with Winston here today and tomorrow Danville will have only two more games on the home park, June 28 and 29, with Durham. The first half of the season closes July 1 with Danville in Durham.

HAYS CALLS FOR HELP TO BETTER MOVIES OF LAND

NEW YORK, June 22.—A committee of three, chosen from fifty of the largest philanthropic, welfare, educational and labor organizations, was called today at a conference with Will H. Hays, head of the motion picture producers and distributors of America, to present a program for the improvement of American movies.

WHEELER SCORED AND DEFENDED

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Declaring that Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-saloon league, "and the interests he controls" had expended from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 to secure adoption of the prohibition amendment, Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, attacked the department of justice today in the House for failing to act against the league under the corrupt practices act.

Mr. Tinkham's attack brought from Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts, criticism of prohibition Commissioner Haynes of the latter's stand regarding sale of liquor on American ships at sea. In refusing to act against such ships, Mr. Gallivan declared, Commissioner Haynes made himself "particeps criminis."

The two Massachusetts members were classed among "friends of wine and beer, in direct violation of the constitution of the United States" by Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, who gained the floor after the attack on the anti-saloon league. The league will be judged in the future, he said, "as was the saloon—by its fruits."

SIMMONS SHOWS FALLACY OF THE WATSON SPEECH

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Another address in the series planned by Republicans in charge of the tariff bill designed to show that importers and department stores are fighting that measure because they do not want their profits cut down was delivered today in the Senate by Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana. Simmons, North Carolina, the Democratic leader in the tariff fight. Exhibiting a score of foreign-made articles which were piled on and around his desk, Senator Watson explained that they had been purchased by government agents in New York at prices ranging from 65 per cent. to 1,743 per cent. above the cost landed in this country as shown by official records. He argued that this explained why the importers and department stores were behind a propaganda to defeat the pending bill.

Senator Simmons, in his reply, declared that as a tariff argument Senator Watson's speech and that of a similar nature last week by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, were "preposterous and ridiculous" because the cost and selling prices of American-made goods comparable to the imported imported articles exhibited had not been given. He exhibited some articles made in this country and abroad and produced letters stating that the importers' sale prices and the American manufacturers' sale prices were about the same.

Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the grueling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

34,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the grueling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

Wu Ting Fong Dies In Canton

Was Former Minister to Washington and Was Picturesque Figure In Diplomatic Circles.

(By The Associated Press.)
SHANGHAI, June 22.—Wu Ting Fong, former minister to Washington, more recently foreign minister for Sun Yat Sen in the disrupted Canton government, died at Canton this morning, according to Reuter dispatch.
Known as the most picturesque figure in diplomatic circles at Washington during his two terms as minister from China to the United States government, Wu Ting Fong possibly did more to cement the cordial relations between that country and this than any other envoy from the Orient, with the possible exception of Li Hung Chang.
Dr. Wu had a sharp tongue, was breezy, frank and unconventional, and his keen epigrams, even at the expense of important personages in official life, were sometimes the cause of the embarrassment of the administration. He was an ardent baseball enthusiast and bicycle rider when bicycling was so popular. He was a vegetarian and had predicted he would live 100 years.
His sympathies with the United States during the Boxer uprising in 1900 led to his recall. The intimation by the state department that his beheading would be offensive to this country only prevented his summary execution. During the troublous times of the rebellion Dr. Wu got through a message to the American minister, Mr. Conger, who, with his colleagues, was in the legation compound, Peking, and whose fate was a matter of grave concern to the state department. The Empress Dowager and her advisers were dissatisfied with Dr. Wu's activities and his recall, which was in the nature of a rebuke, quickly followed. He was given an inferior post and later altogether returned, to be subsequently re-appointed, which was considered in the nature of a personal triumph.

Dr. Wu was active in bringing reforms to China and he favored the "open door" policy. His spirit of progress was symbolized in a memorial he presented to the imperial throne favoring the abolition of the queue. A number of prominent Chinese gathered at Dr. Wu's home and publicly burned their queues out off. He started the work of codifying the laws of China and instituted a number of legal reforms, one of which was jury trials.

The revolutionary movement begun in 1911 found a strong sympathizer in Dr. Wu, who advised the Prince Regent to abdicate. Two years later Wu issued an appeal to the world for recognition of the Chinese Republic.

Dr. Wu was instrumental in the development of a country and he was instrumental in having built the first railway in China. He became the promoter and chief director of the Kaitung Railway company and later was appointed by the imperial government director in the Railway bureau constructing railways in northern China.

Although Dr. Wu always had been a staunch advocate of peace, in the year 1917, when President Li Yuan Hing dismissed his premier and the cabinet for opposing a declaration of war against Germany, he was acting premier, empowering him to form a new cabinet to break the deadlock and to sever relations with the Teutonic powers. Dr. Wu had been appointed minister for foreign affairs in November, 1916, resigning in March, 1917, later suggesting his government follow the example of the United States and break relations with Germany. In July, 1917, Dr. Wu signed an armistice with Germany and it was believed then that his retirement would be permanent, as the republic had weathered the most serious crises.

Dr. Wu was born in Singapore in 1842. He was educated in the Chinese classics at Canton and studied English at Hong Kong. He enrolled as a student at Lincoln's Inn, London, where he studied international law and other legal subjects two years, when he was admitted to practice at the English bar. He returned to China in 1877, passing through the United States, making a study of national institutions and colleges. On his arrival at Hong Kong he practiced law until 1882, when he was appointed legal advisor and deputy for foreign affairs at Tientsin. On the establishment of the Tientsin University in 1895, he was appointed chief director.

In the same year he was made first secretary of the embassy peace missions to Japan and plenipotentiary for exchanging ratifications of the peace treaty effected at Chefoo. Wu also assisted in negotiating at Peking the Sino-Japanese treaty of commerce and navigation, which was ratified in October, 1896.

In the following year he was sent as minister to the United States, which post he occupied until 1902, when he was recalled, being reappointed in 1907, later returning to China to take an active part in the moves that led to the forming of the republic.

Dr. Wu contributed numerous essays on economics and politics to subjects to leading American and British publications. He lectured repeatedly before university classes here and abroad and in 1900 the degree of LL. D. was conferred on him by the University of Pennsylvania. He was married and had several children.

W. M'd. Lee Is Named Head Of Sons Of Veterans

RICHMOND, Va., June 22.—W. M'd. Lee, of Lexington, Va., was elected commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans of the final business meeting of that organization yesterday. Other officers were elected as follows:

Commander: Arthur W. C. Gallows, of Wilmington, N. C.
Commander Army of Tennessee department: D. S. Etheridge, of Chattanooga, Tenn.
Commander Army of Trans-Mississippi department: J. S. Davenport, of Vinita, Okla.

Historian-in-chief: Arthur H. Jennings, of Lynchburg, Va.
Executive council: Walter L. Hopkins, of Richmond; Nathan B. Forest, of Atlanta; S. S. Ferguson, of Wichita Falls, Tex. were elected from the departments of members of the executive council, in addition to the commander-in-chief and the department commanders.

A constitutional amendment providing that Richmond be the permanent headquarters of the organization caused extended debate. When the question was put, the vote stood 200 for Richmond and 137 against. As a two-thirds affirmative vote was necessary, the amendment failed to carry.

An amendment designed to change the name of the organization to "Sons of the Confederacy" was overwhelmingly defeated.

A motion was adopted instructing the executive committee to send a message of sympathy to Colonel Robert E. Lee, who is ill at Hot Springs, Va., and another to Mrs. A. C. M. Wilson, president-general of the S. M. A., who was detained at her home in Atlanta by illness.

Europe Is Still Vast Armed Camp

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Germany laid before the Genoa Conference figures showing that there are today under arms in Europe nearly a million more soldiers than there were when it was on the verge of the World War in 1913. According to the German statement which has just reached Washington there are now in Europe a grand total of 4,736,641 men under arms compared with 3,726,641 in the year 1913.

While the mighty German army of 760,000 men of 1913 shrunk to the 100,000 soldiers allowed by the Versailles Treaty, the French army which in that year numbered 883,000, this year stands at 880,000. Greece's army has increased from 40,000 to 300,000 and Belgium's from 54,641 to 113,400, the statement shows. Russia's vast army, which in 1913 numbered 1,845,000 now is rated at 1,600,000 men. England shows a slight increase from 248,000 to 277,000, while Italy reduced her forces from 275,000 to 264,000.

New armies appear in the German statement. Poland, for instance, an unknown power in 1913, is now appearing with an army of 300,000 men. Then there is Estonia with 23,000, Finland with 23,000, Lettonia with 25,000, Lithuania with 25,000 and Czechoslovakia with 250,000, all unknown as military forces before the World War.

Finally it was shown to the Genoa Conference that while in the year 1913 the German army comprised 20 per cent of the total armies of Europe compared with 23.15 per cent for France, at present the German percentage is but 2 against 13.15 per cent for France.

Five Wives and Swindling Career Charged To Unfrosted Minister

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Donald A. Stewart, 37, unfrosted Presbyterian minister, alleged swindler and temperance worker, arrested at Sierra Madre, near here yesterday, eventually will be tried in New York, where he is under indictment for bigamy. Pinkerton detectives said today.

Stewart, who is said to have four wives and also a divorced wife and three children in Dundee Lake, N. J., was arrested on complaint of the Aetna Savings and Trust Company of Indianapolis, accused of cashing a worthless check for $1,250. His son and wife, formerly Ethel M. Turner Osbaldeston was arrested with him. They admitted their identity and are held for extradition to Boston, where Stewart is under indictment for bigamy, grand larceny and conspiracy, and his wife for conspiracy.

Miss Osbaldeston was married to Stewart in All Souls Church, New York, March 6, 1920. It was upon her complaint that he was indicted for bigamy there. He also is said to have married Mary Barbara James of Mount Carmel, Pa., in Wilmington, Del., Nov. 8, 1918; Bertha Ellen Granma, of Indianapolis in the Claypool Hotel there, Feb. 3, 1921, and Norma Ehrenseiler in Boston Nov. 24, 1921. Stewart, it is said, accompanied him to Boston and pretended to be his sister. It is alleged that she urged Miss Ehrenseiler, wife No. 4, to marry Stewart.

Stewart, it is asserted, stole $1,000 from Miss Ehrenseiler's parents $1,500 from her, gave her a worthless check and then disappeared.

Later in New York Ethel Osbaldeston asked Pinkerton detectives to help her find Stewart, whom she said she wanted to prosecute for bigamy. The detectives were skeptical, and traced her to No. 570 West 18th street, where it was found she had been living with Stewart. Both were missing, but were traced to Sierra Madre by their trunks and arrested.

Pinkerton detectives say Stewart's real name is Robert Alas Browne, a son of the late Down Browne, a clergyman. Stewart was ordained a minister in New York in 1909. He was unfrosted in 1914 because of the suicide of Mrs. Maude Hendricks, wife of an engineer on the Western Pacific Railway, who shot herself Dec. 30th that year at Hayward, Cal. It was said that she was infatuated with Stewart and killed herself because he refused to marry her.

He is said to have had churches at Paterson, N. J.; Sanderson, Tex.; Douglas, Ariz., and Chico, Cal. He posted a reform and took credit for eliminating the segregated district in Hamilton, Cal. He conducted a temperance campaign for which he wrote a song, "We'll Make California Dry."

TROOPS WERE NOT ASKED FOR BY SHERIFF

HERRIN, Ill., June 22.—(Associated Press.)—Sheriff Melvin Thaxton tonight told The Associated Press that he did not ask for troops to quell a riot here because he "did not see any need of it." Colonel Samuel Hunter, of the adjutant general's office stated he did not ask for the militia as he was here on his own initiative and was without authority to ask for State aid unless requested to make such a request by county officials.

Princeton Tutors Voted A Pension

Trustees Set Aside One Million to Provide for Instructors After Sixty-Fifth Year.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 22.—The fourth day of Princeton's 175th commencement today included the class-day exercises, the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees, the Whik and Chlo Hall alumni meetings, and the sophomore "prom."

The Board of Trustees adopted a rule providing a pension for members of the university faculty after they have reached the age of 65, but they may continue to teach until 68 if they so desire. One million dollars will be set aside to finance the project. That supplements the provisions of the Carnegie Foundation, now in effect at Princeton, but which does not apply to any teachers who entered the profession after November 17, 1915.

The trustees elected Matthew S. Flemming, a native of New York City, a life trustee to succeed the late Knox Taylor, Prof. William Libby, master of ceremonies of the faculty was retired by the board.

In connection with the annual class-day exercises Louis Tilden, of Chicago, chief comedian of the Princeton Triangle Club, which presented the class exercises in the gymnasium, gave various members of the class gifts. An unusual feature was offered when it came the turn of Tilden's old teammate on the state, Russell Forgan, also of Chicago, to receive gifts. Tilden presented him with a life-size model of a dancing girl. He then introduced four negro musicians from behind the stage, who began playing the mouth organ, and he ordered Forgan to dance with his "new dancing partner." Forgan, embarrassed but not balked, accepted the challenge.

Many features of a similar nature were brought into the ceremonies by Tilden, voted by his classmates as "the witfiest man in the class." A big was the gift of Tilden to Everett Case, of Plainfield, chairman of the Class Day Committee, who is slightly bald.

The sophomore promenade was given in the gymnasium this evening, beginning at 10 o'clock, and was attended by about 500 young women, guests of the graduates.

Class day ceremonies occupied the day. The annual meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa Society was held this morning, and six new members were elected. They are Hamilton Cottle, of Seaside; Reginald Lee Johnson, of New York City; George Mitchell, of Los Angeles; Paul McBride, of Chicago; Richard Shipley Newby, of Whitford, Pa.; and Arthur Christie Regan, of Minneapolis.

Charles Denby, Jr., a nephew of the Secretary of the Navy, delivered the class oration in Alexander Hall since in early April. A very delicate self-recording instrument was loaned to the university by the U. S. Weather Bureau for this purpose.

A. J. Wood, who has this work in charge, states that the temperature in the room as shown by the record cannon in the rear of Nassau Hall to hear the class history by Thomas M. Eachin, of Jacksonville, Fla., the "presentation speech" by Louis E. Tilden, of Chicago, and an address by Donald B. Dourie, of Peru, Ill., the class president. The ceremonies ended with the singing of the class ode. Tonight was a big night for the under-graduates who have girls here for commencement week. "Senior singing," under the leadership of "Mel" Davis, of the Glee club, was held at 9 o'clock on the stage of the Nassau Hall, ending the relinquishment of the steps of the class of 1923. A concert by the Glee Club followed and then the annual sophomore "prom" in the gymnasium.

The 175 annual commencement will be held tomorrow morning in front of Nassau Hall.

New Seismograph Castings Complete

CHARLOTTESVILLE, June 23.—The castings for the new seismograph which is being built for the University of Virginia have just been completed at a local iron works. The patterns for these castings were made by the students at the engineering shops, the class also helping to make the castings at the iron works.

Some of the lighter and finer work on these parts will be done in the instrument shop of the physical laboratory at the university during the summer and the heavier pieces will be fashioned by the engineering classes on the opening of the regular session in September.

Tests for changes of temperature in the room where the seismograph is to be installed have been under way since in early April. A very delicate self-recording instrument was loaned to the university by the U. S. Weather Bureau for this purpose.

A. J. Wood, who has this work in charge, states that the temperature in the room as shown by the record

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—(Associated Press.)—Louisville will meet Bobby Jones of Louisville will meet Bobby Jones of Atlanta, and Frank Godchaux, New Orleans, will play H. C. Jones, Atlanta, in the semi-finals of the Southern amateur golf championship here tomorrow.

Brink's amateur Perry Adair, Atlanta, 1921 champion today in one of the hardest fought matches ever seen on the Eastlake course and M. C.
Jones had a terrific struggle with T.
N. Bradshaw, Atlanta. Godchaux and Bobby Jones each ended their matches at the 27th hole. The former eliminated R. H. Baugh, Jr., Birmingham 10-9, and the latter put out W. G. Harris, Memphis, 11-9. M.
C. Jones won 2-1.

Brink's match ended with him one up at the thirty-sixth hole when he sunk a sixteen foot putt for a par 3 while Adair missed one of the same length.

This match drew the gallery in the afternoon and Brink's wonderful recoveries and deadly putting won him applause.

Brink had a medal score of 155 for the thirty-six holes against Adair's 154.

Long driving power that occasionally gave him as much or more distance in one or two shots than Harris got in two or three in addition to accurate putting was the secret of Bobby Jones' easy victory over the Alabama contender. Jones shot the twenty-seven holes in 107, one under par, while Harris required twelve more strokes.

Godchaux shot the 27 holes requiring to eliminate Baugh in 112, making the last nine in par 36, while Baugh was taking 136. The Atlanta club, Bradshaw and M. C. Jones, were all square at the end of the first nine. Jones was two up when they quit for lunch but Bradshaw was one up at number nine of the afternoon round. Jones squared on number ten, won the next two in par figures and maintained that lead until the end.

Yale vs Harvard
Event Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22.— Tradition that has come down through the years will slip into the old Thames tomorrow alongside the crews of Yale and Harvard, the bitterest of gentle foes, as they lift their shells into the stream whose ripples will hum to the Atlantic tomorrow night the prize of the regatta championship of the eight-oared crews.

As compelling and majestic as their yearly football game is the annual regatta of Yale and Harvard, made so by the full hearts that strain with as much nerve ashore as under the tanned breasts at the oars. An exhilarating yell that the frosty winds of autumn whirl across the gridiron is the screaming of whistles and the clang of bells on the variety of craft that is jumbled together somehow tonight along the lanes the crews will traverse on the morrow.

In place of the battered quarter-backs barking cry signals behind the living hedges formed by the line men, will be miniature men seated in the sterns of the feather-like shells, pleading to eight sun-browned, shrewy, form, sliding to and fro while their long sweeps dip into the water, respond to the tug and the shells shoot forward another rod. Tradition says that the only answer to the coxswain's plea is a tighter clenching of the oarsmen—and sometimes a little more speed.

Today New London, as grim usually as any New England habitat of smallfolk, is gay with the forerunners of regatta throngs that will pour in all day in automobiles, on trains, trolleys and pleasure craft, many of them by the natives of the old seaport who apparently take as much joy in listening to the rumble as the visitors take in making it. The crews, segregated from their admirers, are priming their nerves for the test that comes only to the few.

The Yale-Harvard regatta has been an annual affair—with periodic interruptions—since 1852 and so determinedly have the crews of both institutions fought it that both have won 27 varsity races, alternately the last four times, following the period of supremacy that the Crimson enjoyed in the early years of this century. Yale won last year and Harvard the year before.

The result cannot be forecast by resorting to the performance of either varsity crew this year and prognosticating is made doubly difficult by the change in rowing methods that Yale sensationally made a month ago, discarding the head coach, Jim Cordery, teacher of the English style, and replacing him with his brother, George Cordery, mentor of the American style, who was the tutor of the freshmen crew.

Both Yale and Harvard have been defeated this year by the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton in either dual or triangular regattas. Tonight the critics are pointing to the victory of Princeton over Harvard in the race won by the Navy May 6 in which the Crimson came in eight lengths behind the winner and two lengths at the stern Tiger. Princeton also finished second in a three-cornered race May 20 at Derby in which Yale was third—the regatta was won by Cornell.

These races, however, were two miles or less in distance.

Tomorrow's program, subject to the weather, consists of two morning races and the main event in the afternoon. The freshmen crews will slip away from Bartlett's Cove to the navy yard at 10 a. m. followed within a half hour by the junior varsity. At 5:30 p. m., the four-mile varsity contest, to be rowed upstream the year, will start at the railroad bridge and end at Bartlett's Cove.

Clubwoman Decries Needless Accidents

CHAUTAQUA, N. Y., June 22.— "If every club woman in the United States would confer on herself the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' traffic accidents would soon be virtually gone away with," said John C. Long, of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, speaking before the General Federation of Women's Clubs here today.

"Most accidents on our highways are needless," said the speaker. "The conditions which cause them are preventable. Twenty-five cities lowered their traffic fatality records in 1921. Detroit and St. Louis nearly halved their previous highway mortality figures. Credit for this decrease belongs to local 'Doctors of Safety' who diagnosed the trouble and then applied strong remedies to bring about convalescence."

"The increase of motor vehicles to the number of 10,000,000 in use today has come about so rapidly that we have been staggered by the traffic problem, and have often been led to handle in a hasty manner a condition which will yield to normal treatment."

"We have passed stringent laws, cried for punishment of the speeder, and demanded that traffic rule violators be put in jail. This is all well enough, but it is not fundamental. Persons who spread disease should be quarantined, but that does not necessarily stamp out the source of the malady."

"Among the causes of traffic accidents are careless driving, children playing in the streets, poor parking accommodations, insufficient playgrounds, bad street lighting, lack of signs, narrow street limits, inadequate police force, unintelligent traffic regulations."

"If a boy or girl in your community is taken ill, the doctor is called in and makes his diagnosis. He decides whether the trouble is croup or scarlet fever, or what, before attempting to prescribe a remedy. If a child has typhoid fever the whole water supply system of the town may need investigation."

"If a child is injured in an automobile accident, however, someone may be arrested, the police may insist on all motorists carrying special cards, a few more ordinances may be passed, but in most communities there will be no exhaustive examination of why that accident occurred."

"If the club women of the United States would confer on themselves the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' accidents would soon be virtually gone away with."

"Any woman's club can make a correct diagnosis of its own town, and the accident evil. Make a map of it. Place a white pin at a point where a traffic accident occurred during the past year, and a red pin for every accident on the highways. Then you have a basis for determining accident-prone spots."

"Are there many pine cone-shaped buildings in your town? Are there many more signs and more police cars needed there? Are most of the trees in the middle of blocks rather than at the corners? Then a campaign to green growing at the corners would be needed. Are the children present? Then more attention to play in school playgrounds in home training in local playgrounds."

"Following this anatomy study which should reveal the worst of the town spots, should come a study of the police records on accident cases. At what time of day and year do these occur? Street traffic police or weak periods? What was the cause of the accident? Is it carelessness or carelessness? Are coming more to evidence a campaign on public opinion on the part of the mother would be of great assistance in law enforcement."

"This diagnosis of the town and the records of the past year, but it is a beginning which has been largely overlooked."

"For the remedies one may turn to Detroit which has large playgrounds and elaborate safety instruction in
